“Vegetable bouillon” is the key!

Salad made without using worrisome food additives*1 put on sale

Release of Salad in the Topvalu Gurinai Free From Series!

Aeon will begin to sell two ready-made salad products in the “Topvalu Gurinai Free From”^{*1} series at about 800 “Aeon” “Aeon Style” and other stores on Wednesday, January 16.

Aeon released the Gurinai Free From series in November 2016 as products made without using worrisome additives and materials, and in November 2018 released the first prepared Japanese food in the series to meet expanding demand for ready-made meals.

The two items newly placed on sale are potato salad and spaghetti salad, which are particularly popular among ready-made salad products. The two products do not contain food additives that concern customers (seasoning [amino acids] and color former [sodium nitrite]), and the “vegetable bouillon” used in the products plays a key role in making the salad taste very mild and natural.

These ready-made, safe and delicious salad products were highly rated in a pre-release consumer survey*2.

“Gurinai Free From” items exceed 100!

Ready-made salad and other items added to meet increasing demand for ready-made meals
Aeon will further expand the product lineup in response to customer needs

Aeon has been selling products made by avoiding the use of additives, materials and ingredients that concern customers in the “Topvalu Gurinai Free From” series since November 2016. Products sold in the series include “pain de mie” (bread) made by using olive oil instead of margarine, shortening and other similar oils; and mayonnaise made without using seasoning (amino acids) or spice extract.

Customers have made comments such as “I am happy to be able to purchase these products at a nearby store,” and “It is delicious without using ○○ (additive)!” even now, two years after release of the products. Customers thus highly evaluate the products in recognition of their quality and tastiness as well as the avoidance of using worrisome additives.

With the addition of ready-made salad and other food items, the total number of product items sold in the Topvalu “Gurinai Free From” series has exceeded 100. Aeon will continue to develop safe products that customers can use with peace of mind in reference to their opinions and in consideration of their health.
